Dear FTI students, teachers and staff,

As our communities continue to feel the increased impact of COVID-19, we feel it is important to share with you what we are doing to help keep our students, teachers and staff safe and healthy.

Many cities and states are moving to remote working environments and encouraging social distancing, and we recognize this becomes difficult for our live-training courses.

As a result, we are suspending and rescheduling all live classes through May. To provide a solution to our students, we are preparing an enhanced schedule of live, web-based fastener training webinars. Additionally, FTI's extensive Online Learning Library is a great way to increase your fastener knowledge without traveling.

Next week, we will announce our new course offerings, as well as discounted pricing to support our industry during this difficult time.

We continue to monitor the spread of COVID-19 and are keeping an eye on official information as it is released. As always, we appreciate the support of the fastener industry and look forward to a resumption of our normal schedule.

Be well and take care,
