FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Fastener Training Institute Offers Class at the International Fastener Expo Oct. 17: “How Fasteners Are Made and What Drives the Cost of a Fastener”

GLENDALE, CA – The Fastener Training Institute (FTI) will offer a full-day in-person class sponsored by Star Stainless Screw Co., “How Fasteners Are Made and What Drives the Cost of a Fastener,” October 17 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Mandalay Bay in Las Vegas at the International Fastener Expo. Early bird pricing is available through Oct. 3

In this class, IFI Director of Training Laurence Claus takes participants into the fastener manufacturing world and explores why the under-appreciated components are complex engineering marvels.

The course covers different methods of producing fasteners, the advantages and disadvantages of each manufacturing method, and other steps the average fastener may undergo. Students will learn how these different processes, as well as raw material and customer expectations, drive fasteners into a value-added powerhouse of a component.

The early bird rate is $399, and the cost increases to $449 after Oct. 3. Registration is available at fastenertraining.org. Use promo code FTISAVE for 50 percent off International Fastener Expo attendee registration.

About Fastener Training Institute

About International Fastener Expo

The International Fastener Expo is the largest B2B expo for fasteners, tooling, and machinery in North America. Since 1981, the event has brought together the manufacturers and master distributors of fasteners, precision formed parts, fastener machinery & tooling and other related products and services with distributors and sales agents in the distribution chain. Held annually in Las Vegas, Nevada, USA, the event consists of an all-day conference program presented by endorsing fastener associations and a show floor with hundreds of exhibitors from around the world. Each year, thousands of attendees from 30+ countries travel to North America’s #1 trade show city, Las Vegas, Nevada to network and do business with hundreds of suppliers showcasing every type of fastener for several industries including construction, aerospace, military, electrical, and automotive. Electronic fasteners, specialty tooling products, special application fasteners, tooling and machinery, hand tools, power tools, service solutions, and much more will be on display. This is the trade show where all types of distributors come to network and see customers, build new relationships, and find new products.
